County board finalizes bonding for courthouse improvements, senior center

by Dan Sanderson Staff Writer

The Crawford County Board of Commissioners put the public on notice that it intends to issue $3 million in bonds to pay for courthouse improvements and to relocate the Grayling Senior Center to the historic Grayling Fish Hatchery building.

The board, last week, agreed to issue separate notices to issue general obligation bonds for the two county projects. The first would be to issue bonds not to exceed $1.5 million to pay for an addition and renovation of the Crawford County Courthouse to bring the building in compliance with the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA). The second proposal, also not to exceed $1.5 million, would be to renovate and make site improvements to relocate the Grayling Senior Center to the former fish hatchery building.

For years, county officials have been searching for funds to make the county building more handicapped friendly. Officials fear having a lawsuit filed by a handicapped person that cannot access the building or county services.

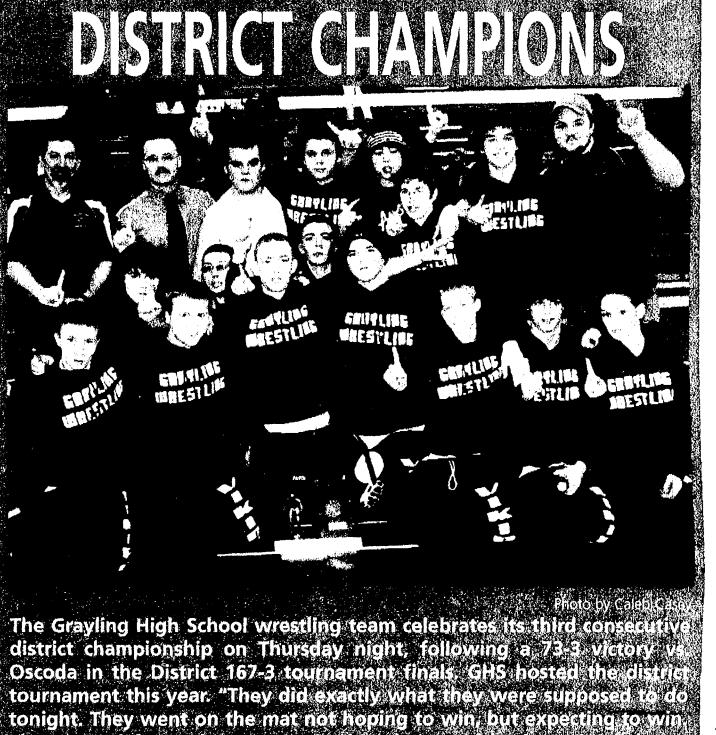

Funds freed up from the expansion of the Crawford County Jail, and payments for a heating, cooling and ventilation system for the courthouse, have been earmarked to pay off the bonds for the building facelift.

The county board also agreed to a second proposal to relocate the Grayling Senior Center to the fish hatchery building.

For the last year and a half, the Crawford County Commission on Aging (COA) has been studying the potential of moving its senior center to the fish hatchery or other locations. The senior center needs more space to provide adequate services

Commissioners ready to let ORV ordinance roll

by Dan Sanderson Staff Writer

An ordinance, which would allow dirt bikes and four-wheelers to travel on some Crawford County roads, could be ready to roll by the time snow melts this spring.

Crawford County Commissioner Scott Hanson said that county officials could recommend the adoption of a county ORV ordinance by its Thursday, April 3, committee meeting. The ordinance would then go before the full board at its Wednesday, April 15, meeting for final adoption.

Under state legislation signed into law last year, counties and townships can open their roadways to ORV use on the "far right," at a speed no greater than 25 mph, once a local ordinance is adopted. All youths must have Department of Natural Resources (DNR) ORV safety training and be under visual supervision of an adult, able to come to their immediate aid, as per current law.

The county board of commissioners, the road commission and local municipalities would be immune from liabilities arising from damages sustained by the operation of an ATV or ORV on a county road shoulder,

United Way carries on without director

by Matt Seager Staff Writer

Despite the loss of their director nearly four months ago, United Way of Crawford County continues to advance its mission and create new goals. Board members report that they have big plans to move ahead throughout 2009, with or without a director.

"We're functioning without a director at the present time," said Sheriff Kirk Wakefield, who also currently serves as the organization's secretary.

The organization's former director, Linda Williams, resigned last November for personal reasons.

Although board members say they do intend to "eventually" install someone new into the paid leadership position, the search has been put on the back burner while they focus their resources on supporting new and existing projects.

"We wanted to put any money we get in our organization into our community," said board president Karen Hatley.

Hatley admits, however, that the eventual addition of a new director will be a big help in allowing the organization to fulfill its mission.

"She does the talking and fund raising," Hatley said. "It takes quite a bit of time to do that."

United Way organizations are funded entirely by community donations and fundraiser events.

Board members noted that, like virtually all charities right now, funding for United Way is down. Still, there are a handful of

Snappy resolution reached for Beaver Creek Township Fire Chief's alleged fuel tax violation

by Dan Sanderson Staff Writer

Within days of being formally charged for allegedly selling un-taxed diesel fuel to a local ambulance service, officials worked on behalf of the veteran Beaver Creek Township Fire Chief to resolve the issue.

Edward Richard Holtcamp, 71, waived his arraignment on a charge of taxes-engaging in a motor fuel tax business in violation of the state's Motor Fuel Tax Act without a license. Holtcamp was not required to attend the court hearing on Wednesday, Feb. 18, and a not-guilty plea was entered on his behalf by Crawford County Magistrate Camarin Talarico.

The charge stems from the sale of un-taxed diesel fuel Mobile Medical Response, a 501-C3 tax exempt organization that provides ambulance services to Crawford County.

Mark Thompson, president and CEO of the Saginaw based Mobile Medical Response, said as a 501-C3 tax exempt organization, the business is not subject to paying income taxes and sales taxes, but must pay some excise taxes including fuel taxes.

Mobile Medical Response

has a substation based out of diesel fuel sold by other fuel the Beaver Creek Township Fire Department. Mobile carrier officers can take a Medical Response also services communities in 10 counties throughout Michigan.

Thompson said the ambulance service purchased diesel fuel from the Beaver Township Department in October 2005.

Beaver Creek Township Fire Department is allowed to purchase and run un-taxed diesel fuel in its trucks since it is a governmental agency.

Mobile Medical Response initiated actions in early 2007 to discontinue acquiring fuel from the Beaver Creek Township Department, due to changes in fuel requirements for the ambulances.

Just after the decision was made, Detective Sgt. Tim Lenhard and Bill Coe, the motor carrier officer for the Houghton Lake Post of the Michigan State Police, began an investigation on fuel used by the ambulance service due to an anonymous resolved the issue with the IRS in January. Holtcamp was arrested for allegedly violating the state fuel tax act without a license on Jan. 28.

On Monday afternoon, Thompson paid the $14,500 to cover the unpaid taxes, interest and penalties at the Michigan Department of Treasury branch office in Flint.

"It's a good thing to get behind us for sure," Thompson said. "There was no intent by either party to do anything inappropriate. We paid the taxes and we'll move on."

Information regarding payment of the taxes was forwarded to Crawford County Prosecutor Everette "Trey" Ayers for his consideration. A motion was entered in Crawford County District Court on Tuesday, where Ayers agreed to no longer prosecute the criminal charge. The order was waiting for District Court Judge Monte Burmeister's signature.

Holtcamp faced a four-

Inspector Randy Coplin, assistant division commander for the Michigan State Police's traffic safety division for commercial vehicle Mobile Medical Response enforcement, said four to five businesses or drivers statewide are charged for running dyed diesel fuel.

"I think there's more out there that we're not coming across," Coplin said.

Holtcamp has been the Beaver Creek Township Fire Chief since the department was founded in 1982.

In 2002, Holtcamp was honored as Michigan's Fire Chief of the Year by the Michigan Association of Fire Chiefs. Holtcamp served on the group's board, was legislative liaison for the organization and is past president of the Northern Michigan Association of Fire Chiefs, which includes as many as 300 chiefs from the northern part of the Lower Peninsula. Holtcamp served on Gov. Jim Blanchard's Fire Safety Task Force and former Rep. Allen Lowe's wildfire task

Beaver Creek Township Supervisor Brian Ashton said the fire department and the fuel sale snafu will be on the agenda for the next township board meeting scheduled for Monday, March 9.

Ashton said he has had a lot of inquires over the issue, but no determination has been made regarding the future of the fire department.

"It's just too early to tell," Ashton said. "This is all going to blow over soon."

Ashton said that township officials and fire department officials are cooperating with the investigation. Ashton said he does not believe that the issue involves any other current or past township officials. Ashton defeated incumbent Beaver Creek Township Supervisor Lee Riley in the August 2008 primary elec-

"I'm the new kid on the block," Ashton said. "As far as I'm aware, nothing like this has happened before."

Police team up to nab thieves

by Dan Sanderson Staff Writer

Shoe prints in fresh snow helped a trio of local police agencies track down three alleged thieves last week.

Grayling City Patrolman Tim Coe observed shoe tracks in the fresh snow around 4 a.m. Wednesday, Feb. 18, causing him to become suspicious due to several reported larcenies from automobiles earlier in the week.

Coe determined the tracks were made by three individuals who appeared to be casing cars and trucks in private drives and were looking for an opportunity to steal items from the vehicles.

While following the tracks, a report was received by Crawford County Dispatch from a local citizen reporting that his truck had just been broken into and three subjects were seen fleeing from the scene.

Crawford County Sheriff's Deputies and Troopers from Houghton Lake Post of the Michigan State Police joined Coe, who was a short distance from the home, in the search for the three individuals.

The investigation led to a home in the city where three young men were questioned concerning the incident. The three men, two 17-year-olds and one 20year-old, were determined to be responsible and an investigation into the theft continues, said Grayling City Police Chief Doug Baum.

A report has been turned over to the Crawford County Prosecutor's Office and warrants are expected

Volunteers sought to adopt garden

by Dan Sanderson Staff Writer

While weapons and fingerprints are being processed in the Michigan State Police Forensics Lab in Grayling, officials are seeking volunteers to dirty their hands and knees maintaining a garden outside the building.

City of Grayling and Grayling Promotional Association (GPA) leaders are recruiting volunteers to give the garden in front of the crime lab a complete overhaul.

GPA members have maintained the garden for years, but volunteers and energy to upkeep the garden are dwin-

Grayling City Manager David Thayer and Ilene Geiss-Wilson, executive director of the Grayling Visitors Bureau, say they hope to have garden volunteers lined up by spring.

"It certainly adds to the attractiveness of the community and it is just off the main thoroughfare through town," Geiss-Wilson said. "We want our community to look nice for the people who live here and our visitors."

In 2000, Grayling City officials agreed to lease the building on James Street to the crime lab. Prior to that, the building housed the Grayling City Hall and the crime lab.

Thayer said the entire garden needs to be ripped up, repaired and taken care of this spring, summer and fall.

Thayer said he researched adding an employee to Grayling's Department of Public Works, but budget constraints make that unfeasible.

"We don't have the manpower to do the things we want to do right now," Thayer said. "I wish we had the luxury to add to the staff, but we just can't do it right

Issues and Opinions

MAYBE IT'S because we live in Michigan, but what comes out of the newly-appointed presidential task force to handle auto company loans casts a heavy shadow hereabouts.

The idea of an auto czar to ride herd on the moneystarving American auto industry has morphed into an inter-agency control group with members from 10 cabinet agencies and the White House, with staffs and advisors to suit the Washington bureaucracy.

Is this switch good or bad for the auto industry? The jury has not reported.

A single person in charge - a so-called auto czar - is more likely to make quick decisions and take decisive actions than a committee, which by its very nature must move more slowly and must reconcile a potential variety of views.

Does swift, unilateral

Almanack

by Richard Milliman

Federal panel will dictate fate of autos action by a single czar produce sounder results than the lumbering consensus required by a hydra-like inter-agency committee?

President Barack Obama saw where perhaps automakers were headed a couple of years ago when as a candidate he told the Detroit Economic Club that the auto industry had to shape up or face dire consequences. That idea was not received warmly Michigan, but recent history shows Mr. Obama was directly on point.

GENERAL MOTORS and Chrysler already have absorbed $18 billion or so in bailout money from the federal government, for which the companies had to submit detailed plans to the auto task force of how they will get back to profitability.

The other of the Big Three - Ford Motor Company - has not asked for federal money and is not subject to the actions of the auto task force ... at least, as of now.

In a recent informal and admittedly incomplete survey, The Detroit News took a look at what kind of cars members of the auto task force own.

Reporter David Shepardson started his report with this caution:

"The vehicles owned by the Obama administration's auto team could reflect one reason why Detroit's Big Three automakers are in trouble: The list includes few new American cars."

Treasury Secretary Timothy Geitner, co-chair of the task force and trigger man for the White House, for example, owns a 2008 Honda Acura, his third Honda in a row.

Lawrence Summers. White House economic advisor and task force cochair, owns a 1995 Mazda, but previously owned a Ford Taurus.

Federal Budget Director Peter Orszag owns a 2008 Honda and a 2006 Volvo, and Carol Browner. White House climate specialist, used to own a 1999 Saab.

And so it goes, down the list of task force members and top advisors, rife with Hondas, Toyotas, Volvos, Lexus (Lexi?), Subaru, even a Peugeot.

American cars included only a Lincoln and a Saturn by one staffer, a Harley and a Taurus by another, a Chevy (along with a Toyota) by another, and a Taurus by another.

PRESIDENT OBAMA has a much better homeowned record. During the campaign, according to the News story, he traded in a Chrysler for a Ford Escape hybrid.

Vice President Joe Biden owns a vintage Corvette, but for years has commuted from his Delaware home by

This pattern of vehicle ownership is not unique to Washington big-shots. The same pattern across the public is probably the primary reason GM and Chrysler need outside money in the first place.

Sales do not support the American car-making business as usual.

It's obvious the auto industry must change from the past, and it has been changing step by step over the past several years.

Whether the makeover can be fast enough and severe enough to satisfy the inter-agency task force is yet to be decided.

The future of Michigan's bread-and-butter basic industry for so many years may not rest in the hands of the leaders at General Motors, Chrysler and Ford, but rather in the hands of task force co-chairs Timothy Geitner and Lawrence Summers, and what they decide is best for the companies and for us.

If it gets down to the White House calling the shots, remember that as a candidate, President Barack Obama sent out the warning a couple of years ago.

THE ADAGE in show business is to always leave them laughing. So

Letters to the Editor

We need tough laws and penalties to kill the deed, not the breed

To the editor:

Being the owner of several pit bull dogs over the years, I am disgusted at some of the comments I have read and heard about the breed in the past few years. I applaud those who are educated and knowledgeable about the breed and dogs in general because the fact is this: when it comes to all breeds, all dogs and their temperaments are direct results of what is taught to them by their owners. When it comes to people, stupid is as stupid does. Opening your mouth to say something you are uneducated and unknowledgeable about only makes you look ignorant and stupid in the eyes of the facts. Years ago, my son received five stitches after being bitten by a cocker spaniel. One and a half years ago my daughter was bitten and injured in the leg by a herding dog while walking in the country by a farm. My cousin was bitten by a French poodle and received many stitches for God's sake. I could go on and on.

Hmmm, except I can't tell you of one incident that I know where a vicious bite occurred to someone that I know and a pit bull was involved. I have owned and have been around fellow pit bull owners for the last 30 years.

They say we learn something new every day. If you take pride in learning and enjoy sticking your input into a conversation and not looking like an idiot, here's an informative lesson in a nutshell for your knowledge bank today. It's easy to say, easy to remember, and you'll look really smart when it flows from your

Pit bulls by nature love humans and literally live to make them happy. They absolutely thrive on pleasing their owners with intelligence, loyalty and love. They are not aggressive by nature. They are taught aggression by the injection of idiot owners into their lives. Get yourself a pit bull. Hug him, play with him and feed him well every day. Take the time to teach him tricks and obedience. Show him with love and respect, the reasons that you deserve his loyalty and protection. At the end of the day, take off his collar and give him neck rubbings and ear scratchings while you tuck him in for the night, as with any dog, and you will have the biggest spoiled baby on your hands. Will he show aggression if someone tries to harm you or your children? Of course, so will your cocker spaniel, your poodle or your Chihuahua. God made beautiful creatures of all kinds, each of them without a flaw. The greed and cruelty of man took these beautiful and loyal creatures and used them for their own sick pleasure and monetary gain. It's people who have created the bad rap for the pit bull. It's really too bad we can't cuthanize some of them. Since we can't, let's at least try to educate ourselves and euthanize ignorance from our minds. We need tough laws and penalties to kill the deed, not the breed.

It's not just one road, it's all of them

To the editor:

I'd like to address the letter about Four Mile Road being in such bad shape.

If you think your road is bad, drive down Old 27 going north or south, from the Moose Lodge to Houghton Lake.

We, the residents of Beaver Creek who use this road on a daily basis, have learned to drive the ditch line, because it's in better shape than the roadway itself. We used to be able to drive South Grayling Road to avoid using Old 27, but that road is bad too.

If you want another bumper car ride, try Fletcher Road between South Grayling Road and Military Road. It's not just one road, it's all of them.

Our county does as much as it can with the money it receives for such repairs, and unfortunately that amount is none.

It's not like you're being picked on because you have a bad road, go for a drive elsewhere, there are some of us who drive on roads worse than yours.

Excerpts from recent comments posted on our Internet site:

Leanne wrote on Jan. 22 (regarding pit bull issue): "I see nothing but a waste of time and tax-case against non-vicious dogs. These dogs are obviously very loved and treated well. They have been evaluated by two different professionals, who agreed they are not vicious. The owners have complied by fixing the problem. How dare the county take it upon themselves to play God. Give the dogs back to their owners, where they belong. This whole case stinks of personal vendettas."

Watching wrote on Jan. 22 (regarding pit bull issue): "This is absurd! The first thing that pops into my mind is the obscene amount of money and time being wasted on this case. Why ask for professional opinions on the dogs' behavioral issues if not accepting the findings? Also another waste. In addition to these dogs being denied another chance, what about the space they're taking at the shelter that truly need help?' Naomi wrote on Jan. 25 (regarding pit bull issue): "I'm a pit bull owner. They are the sweetest things ever. Don't discriminate on one breed. They are wasting time and money. I lived next door to these dogs and never once had I

that could be housing other animals

JS wrote on Feb. 6 (regarding theme park): "It is easy to say let's work together, but not that easy to roll up your sleeves and work. There were plenty of people opposed to the theme park that had wrong information and did not even bother to understand the whole project. Agree or disagree, at least it was movement in a positive direction of growth. I hope other potential developers are not scared away because of the negativity. We do have to work together, but we need someone willing to bring a project to us and we have to be open to new ideas, some that might be difficult for us to accept. My suggestion is to form a group, join a committee, try to do something to help our community, not just sit on the sidelines and observe."

Fred wrote on Feb. 20 (regarding city blight cases): "It is about time the two biggest evesores will be cleaned up, this will also serve notice to others that property must be kept up and in order. The city also needs to consider establishing a set of standards for rental properties. The residential district is looking randown, time to clean it up."

Lottery opens for a chance to run the Mackinac Bridge

Michigan residents can now register for the annual lottery that selects 300 participants for the Mackinac Bridge Labor Day Run. Runners will be selected from the online lottery in

The Bridge Run encourages Michigan residents to "get moving" by spending the summer training for the five-mile course. Farm Bureau Insurance sponsors the non-competitive run and the Governor's Council on Physical Fitness organizes the event in collaboration with the Mackinac Bridge and Authority Governor's Office.

"The running fraternity has a strong presence in Michigan. We are pleased to offer this unique opportunity for those who know the tremendous benefit of healthy choices. They are a great influence on our sedentary population," said Marilyn Lieber, president and CEO of the Governor's Council on Physical Fitness.

For more information about the Mackinac Bridge Labor Day Run or to register for the lottery, visit http://www.michiganfitness.org/bridgerun.html.

Of the 300 participants in the event, 12 individuals will be chosen to act as "fitness ambassadors." They will serves as role models for developing a healthy lifestyle through physical activity and receive special recognition at the Bridge

To be eligible for the lottery, individuals must be at least 18 years of age, (proper ID for proof of age required), a Michigan resident, able to complete a five-mile run and have participated in at least one running event endorsed by the Governor's Council on Physical Fitness between June 1, 2008, and May 31, 2009. To find an endorsed event in your area, visit www.michiganfitness.org/e

MDOT offers civil engineering internships and scholarships

High school seniors graduating in 2009 can now apply for paid summer internship positions with the Michigan Department of Transportation (MDOT). Upon completion of the class which used a TRAC seven-week program, students will receive a $2,500 scholarship to one of the seven participating civil engineering colleges or universities of their choice.

The Transportation and Civil Engineering (TRAC) Pipeline Internship program is designed to interest high school students in transportation and civil engineering careers. MDOT is offering the Pipeline program to help students learn about civil engineering through a series of assignments, under the direction of a civil engineer, selected to aid in career decision making. "The TRAC Pipeline Internship Program is a great opportunity for interested students to work alongside MDOT civil engineers to learn more about the rewards and challenges of a career in civil engineering," said MDOT Director Kirk T. Steudle.

MDOT is offering 15 TRAC Pipeline internship positions throughout the state. Students will be paid $10 per hour and will receive the $2,500 scholarship upon successful completion. The internship positions are 40 hours per week,

Ausable Valley Animal Shelter

FREQUENTLY ASKED QUESTIONS

Q: Is the shelter run by Crawford County?

A: No. Crawford County contracts with AuSable Valley Animal Shelter, a 501c3 nonprofit organization, to manage the shelter and receive the stray dogs picked up by the county's Animal Control Officer and law enforcement. The shelter receives $1,000 per month to care for up to 15 dogs brought in per month. The shelter receives no county funds for animals brought in by the general public, which accounts for about 2/3 of all animals brought to the shelter each year.

Q: Does the Animal Control Officer work at the shelter?

A: No. The Animal Control Officer is an employee of Crawford County and has an office in the county building in Grayling. Any concerns about the Animal Control Officer should be addressed to County Controller Paul Compo at 344-3202 or your County Commissioner.

Q: Where can I find information on our county animal ordinance and other laws that apply to pet

A: The Crawford County Animal Ordinance is available at the county building or you can find it online at http://www.crawfordco.org/Ordinances/aco1004.htm. You may find the State of Michigan's Dangerous Animals Act 426 of 1988 and other animal related laws at http://www.legislature.mi.gov. Any concerns about the county ordinance should be addressed to your County Commissioners. Write or call your state legislators with regard to state laws.

Q: Who decides when a privately owned animal is to be quarantined, held at the shelter or

A: This question is best answered by reading the county ordinance. The shelter is only involved in animal control issues when an animal is ordered by the court to be held until a final decision is made as to its disposition. In those cases, the shelter serves only as a holding place. The staff gives the same loving care and consideration to these animals as they would any others. The staff may be asked to testify in court as to the behavior or temperament of the animal as observed while in the shelter's care. Under the current contract with Crawford County, the shelter receives only $50 per month for each animal held by court order. There is no contract for quarantine services at the shelter without a court order.

Q: Who should I call if there is a stray dog or cat in my area?

A: For ALL animal control problems, call 344-3273. Call 911 ONLY if there is an emergency. It is NOT an emergency if you are just reporting a stray animal, unless it is threatening public safety or the animal is injured. Calling the shelter to report such a problem only delays the process as the shelter staff is not equipped to pick up stray animals of any kind. There is no provision in the county ordinance for stray cats or kittens, therefore the shelter receives no funding for their intake or care except through private donations.

It is very important for the public to understand there is a difference between county funded services and those that rely heavily on donations and adoption fees. AuSable Valley Animal Shelter strives to serve this community and its pets in the best way possible with the resources available.

The Bible Speaks

God's Love Gives Victory

God's love is greater than all circumstances which challenge "37Nay, in all these things we are more than conquerors through him that loved us." (Romans 8:37). Don't forget the context of "these things" in Romans 8:35,36: "35Who shall separate us from the love of Christ? shall tribulation, or distress, or persecution, or famine, or nakedness, or peril, or sword? 36As it is written, For thy sake we are killed all the day long; we are accounted as sheep for the slaughter." God's love toward us is greater than any and all circumstances we may ever face no matter how severe the tribulation, distress, persecution, famine, nakedness, peril or sword. Nay means no, none of these things can separate us from God's love.

Second, God's love is greater than all conquerors we may ever face. "Nay, in all these things we are more than conquerors...." We are more than conquerors, we are victors, we are overcomers, we have vanquished the foe, we have gained decisive victories. We have more than overcome all famine because we shall eat of the "tree of life" in Revelation 2:7, and we shall eat of "the hidden manna" in Revelation 2:17. We are more than overcomers in nakedness because we know "we shall be clothed in white raiment" in Revelation 3:5. We know we shall overcome death because "we shall not be hurt of the second death" in Revelation 2:11.1 Corinthians 15:54,55 assures us of eternal victory over death. We know we shall overcome all tribulation, distress, and persecution because we shall be given "power over all nations" in Revelation 2:26. We know we shall overcome all earthly humiliation because we shall be exalted to the throne in God's temple with Christ to reign in Revelation 3:12 and 3:21. We know we shall overcome all earthly losses because "7He that overcometh shall inherit all things; and I will be his God, and he shall be my son." (Rev 21:7). Heb 9:15 gives us "the promise of eternal inheritance." In 1 Peter 1:4,5 we are assured to go, "4To an inheritance incorruptible, and undefiled, and that fadeth not away, reserved in heaven for you, 5Who are kept by the power of God through faith unto salvation ready to be revealed in the last time."

Third, God's love is greater than all that challenges us because of Jesus Christ. "37Nay, in all these things we are more than conquerors through him that loved us." Every means or method of our victory is "through Him." "57But thanks be to God, which giveth us the victory through our Lord Jesus Christ." (1 Cor. 15:57). All motivation for our victory is through His love for us, "through Him that loved us." ".....Unto him that loved us, and washed us from our sins in his own blood." (Rev. 1:5). God's victorious love for us is all by His grace alone: "8But God commendeth his love toward us, in that, while we were yet sinners, Christ died for us." (Rom. 5:8). "10Herein is love, not that we loved God, but that he loved us, and sent his Son to be the propitiation for our sins. 19We love him, because he first loved us." (1 John 4:9,10). to existing seniors, a variety of services to the younger senior population and services that emerging Baby Boomers will demand.

The COA board, at a special board meeting last week, voted 4 to 2 to request that the fish hatchery building be used for the senior center and the county board approve a notice for the funding. The COA is contributing $200,000 toward the relocation from its building fund.

The COA vote was supported by Chairman Jack Mahank, County Commissioner Mike Lange, and board members Linda Munsey and Helen Nolan. Board members Dean McCray and Don Williams cast no votes against the fish hatchery option. Howard Taylor, vice chairman of the COA board, did not attend the meeting.

Williams also cast the sole no vote in a 5 to 1 vote against building a new senior center. The COA board was eyeing property east of the AuSable River and north of North Down River Road and also property off of Madsen Street as potential senior center sites.

Williams, a retired engineer, said he needed more time to study both options. He added that he also did not want to take a site away for a potential Mercy Hospital Grayling expan-

"I knew all the facts, but together yet," Williams said.

Lange said that moving the senior center to the fish hatchery fits perfectly with the medical renaissance zone that City of Grayling Hospital Mercy

Grayling officials are touting.

"I don't really have a problem with taking an asset that we already have and rehabbing that," Lange said. "I think the COA being in that location melds with that idea."

Although the COA has about two months to develop final building plans for the fish hatchery building, Director Alice Snyder said she is pleased that the building search process has been kicked up a notch.

"It's exciting to know that we've got the potential for some funding to move this project forward," Snyder

In 1914, Grayling lumber baron Rasmus Hanson purchased land on the AuSable River, collected donations from friends and local fishermen and established the private hatchery where they hoped to raise grayling from eggs and release them into the wild.

Hanson and his friends failed to save the native fish, whose habitat destroyed by floating logs down the river to local lumber mills, but their work with brook and brown trout succeeded.

The initial fish hatchery building was built in 1919, but was destroyed by a fire. The current fish hatchery building was built in 1948.

Over the past six years, over $500,000 Department of Natural Resources grant funds, Agriculture grant funds and local donations have been poured into restoring the fish hatchery grounds and preparing the building for a future use.

The Grayling Fish

Hatchery Steering committee hopes to establish a small nature museum in the building.

Crawford County Administrator Paul Compo said the county's bond council advised officials to separate notices for the projects rather than going for one lump sum. That way, the notices are clarified for county residents, Compo

The notices also inform county residents of a 45-day referendum on the bond sale proposal. If 10 percent of registered voters in the county sign petitions protesting the bond sale, the financing measure would have to be placed on a ballot to be decided by voters. Compo said that the county board could also pull one of the projects if enough objections are raised by citizens.

Dave Stephenson, chairman of the Crawford County Board Commissioners, said going for the bonding for the two projects at the same time could save the county between $20,000 $30,000. County officials are also hoping to get a favorable interest rate, which would allow lower payments over a greater number of years to fit within the county's annual bud-

Stephenson said the board was basically shopping for funding for the two projects at this point.

"We would have the funds I hadn't gelled them all United States Department of to cover both projects," Stephenson said. "If the citizens disagree, they would have the option to speak their peace so-to-speak, so we will see what they have to say,"

The vote for the county building face-lift, which has been a priority due to ADA compliance concerns, passed by a unanimous vote, County officials hope to start construction for the project in June.

The vote to relocate the senior center to the fish hatchery building passed by a 6 to 1 vote with Rick Commissioner Anderson casting the lone no vote.

Anderson, whose wife Nova Anderson was the director of the COA for 15 years, said the Grayling Senior Center is near and dear to his heart. Anderson, who said he utilizes senior center services, said that accessibility, visibility and meeting the seniors' longterm needs were other issues he had as a representative of county taxpayers.

Ultimately, Anderson said he favored building a new senior center and keeping the fish hatchery site open to future use by the hospital or medical offices.

"I wasn't so much concerned with the dollars, I just thought they could be more economically spent in another location," Anderson said. "With zero from the ground up, you know what you're getting."

Finding a new home for District Health Department #10 was removed from the projects considered by the county board. The current health department is 1,700 square feet and health officials are requesting at least 4,000 square feet of space to provide adequate services and multiple health clinics for families and children.

"That problem is not going away and it's something that we still need to address," Compo said.

"Personalized protection at a fair price." Call Dave or Hilary for a plan that fits your needs.

except in cases of gross negligence. Even then, the limited liability would end at the edge of the normally traveled portion of the road the painted white line or edge of the black top. In the event of an accident, the operator of the ORV or ATV would be considered negligent for the damage.

Fines collected under the act would be placed in a county ORV fund, with 50 percent of the funds going to the county sheriff's office to fund law enforcement and training, and the remaining funds going to the county road commission to pay for signage and remediation purposes.

The county would be permitted to create a civil infraction for a violation of the act, with a fine not to exceed $500 plus the actual cost of any court ordered remediation for damages.

Under the state law, the Crawford County Road Commission and the townships can opt to close 30 percent of the roads in their jurisdiction from ORV travel.

Hanson said he is seeking final input from the Crawford County Road Commission, the Michigan Department of Natural Resources, the U.S. Forest Service and six townships in the county on roads that may need to be closed off under the ordinance. A letter will be sent to each governmental unit from Dave Stephenson, chairman of the Crawford County Board of Commissioners, seeking maps and areas of concern. The deadline for input is Thursday, March 27.

"If they don't reply, it would be my intention that we open all available roads," Hanson said.

Don Babcock, managing director of the Crawford County Road Commission, said road officials have seen a couple of maps with roads that could be opened under the proposal. He added that road commissioners do have some safety concerns regarding ORVs on the county's primary road, roads that have curves and roads that have sight distance

"We'll do the best we can with whatever program or proposal they have us work with," Babcock said.

Hanson said that the road commission would contract with the county board to put up signs regarding the ORV ordinance.

Hanson hopes that the ordinance will boost business for Grayling hotels, restaurants and gas stations and create more opportunities for local ORV enthusi-

Earlier this month, offiin neighboring cials Kalkaska County approved an ORV ordinance that becomes effective on April

RECYCLING SUGGESTIONS

Even though we're nine years into the 21st Century, there are still some household items that can't be recycled. However, the proper disposal of non-recyclable items also plays a role in helping the environment.

Disposing of this waste properly helps people, too. When there is too much hazardous waste buildup in landfills, or when these wastes are simply dumped illegally. the effects of highly toxic chemicals in the soil can be quite dangerous.

In 1989, a school in New Jersey was closed because students were suffering from exposure to a hazardous substance called chromium. It turns out that large quannties of the chemical had wear... been illegally dumped nearby

Fortunately, it's easy to properly dispose of hazardous wastes in Crawford County, A collection of hazardous waste materials will be held on Jane 20 from 9 a.m. until 2 p.m. in the parking lot of the county building.

DEPOSIT STATE OF THE PROPERTY OF THE PROPERTY

When the time comes around for spring cleaning this year, don't be too hasty to chuck hazardous materials. Hold onto these items until they can be disposed properly.

Common household hazardous wastes include cleaning chemicals, certain paints, automotive fluids, empty propane tanks and gas cans, pesticides, wood preservatives, heavy-duty glue and epoxy. Electronic wastes can be hazardous. also . Common household electronic wastes might include old TVs, batteries and computer parts such as monitors, hard drives, printers and scanners. These items will also be accepted this

Medical marijuana law to kick in soon

by Joe Vaillancourt Capital News Service

Your arm hurts pretty bad. And since the Proposal 1 ballot initiative passed in the November elections, you're thinking this might be the chance to get legally prescribed marijuana to ease your pain.

Think again.

Marijuana remains far from legal, and loopholes in the new law may create problems down the road, law enforcement and health officials said.

The initiative, which allows physicians to recommend marijuana permits for patients with specific diseases, takes effect April 4, Department Community Health (DCH) Director Janet Olszewski.

"The law called for us to draft administrative rules that would give clear guidance for how we were implementing the program," she said. "We have revised the rules and we are moving them through the final implementation process."

She said the department will issue registration cards to eligible patients or their caregivers to grow or possess marijuana. It will also provide guidance to physicians about their role.

"They will not be prescribing medical marijuana. They will be certifying an individual as having a condition for using it," she said.

Melanie Brim, director of the department's Bureau of Health Professions, emphasized the initiative does not make marijuana legal.

"What the bill does is give patients with specific debilitating medical conditions the ability to apply for a registration card, which allows them to possess a certain number of ounces or plants," Brim said. "It is not a prescription. It is still illegal in Michigan to sell it. It is still a federal crime to distribute marijuana.

"What the ballot initiative does not do is provide an avenue by which you can acquire marijuana. For consumers, that is still a major issue."

The DCH lists eligible debilitating conditions such as cancer, HIV, AIDS, glaucoma, hepatitis C, Crohn's disease and chronic or severe pain.

The initiative does not say where an eligible patient could obtain mari-

"The problem is that the ballot initiative had a gap in it," said Michigan State Medical Society public relations director Dave Fox. "It doesn't say how to get seeds or ready-to-use marijuana."

Fox also said a patient in severe pain will not want to obtain seeds and wait for them to grow.

Because marijuana is recommended by physicians but still illegal, law enforcement officers are in a bind over penalties for users who are arrested.

Crawford County Sheriff Kirk Wakefield said he expects problems to arise.

"What the legislation thought was necessary is now creating a lot of problems. It is not user-friendly for law enforcement," Wakefield said. "If they're driving and under the influence of marijuana, they're going to jail."

Unlike with alcohol, there is no way to instantly tell how much or how potent marijuana someone has smoked, he said.

Wakefield said urine or blood tests may show positive tetrahydrocannabinol (THC) results from previous use - yet another loophole. THC is the active ingredient in marijuana that gives one the feeling of being "high."

Steven Thompson, executive director of the National Organization for Reform of Marijuana Laws Michigan chapter Eastpointe, said urine and blood testing are not accurate procedures for determining impaired driving.

"It should be based on a person's driving performance, not if they have THC in their system," he said. "If someone fails to pass a field sobriety test, then yes, arrest them."

Although marijuana laws have loosened around the country, it is still classified by the federal government as a Schedule I controlled substance along with heroin and ecstasy.

Under federal law, Schedule I substances are deemed to have a high potential for abuse, are not accepted for medical use in the United States and have a general lack of accepted safety by medical institutions.

"Because cannabis was put under Schedule I, people think it's a drug. It's not," said Thompson. "Cannabis is a seed-bearing herb. Drugs are handmade for the purpose of being drugs."

Mark Steinberg, manager of the DCH's Substance Contract Abuse Management Section, said, "One of the concerns we have with the medical marijuana law upon us is the general public, particularly young people, not taking marijuana seriously as a drug of abuse.

"It is not a recreational plaything. It can really bite you financially and legally."

With the ballot initiative near finalization, Fox said physicians may be reluctant to issue a registration card to eligible patients.

"Physicians are not necessarily protected if a lawsuit arises," he said. "Also, physicians are scientists and like things to be proven effective. They like dosing and quality control. It puts a doctor in an awkward spot when someone requests medicinal marijuana."

Thompson said he doesn't expect any legal problems to arise with federal government.

"Under our present administration, I don't see any legal problems happening," he said. "Obama said he will not use federal money in lawsuits in states that have allowed medicinal marijuana."

While strongly opposed to smoking, the medical society's Fox said his organization supports more scientific research into the effectiveness of THC.

So before you ask your physician to recommend marijuana to ease the pain of that sore arm, you might want to ask yourself if it's worth the risks that come with it.

"It's unknown at this point how many doctors will recommend marijuana to patients," Fox said. "It could cause some issues. It will be interesting to see how it plays out."

KCC's president highlights initiatives

Kirtland Community school College's chief recently updated Crawford County officials on a number of technological, economic development and public safety issues the college is pursu-

Dr. Tom Quinn, the president of Kirtland Community College, recently visited the Crawford County Board of Commissioners to update them on technological advances and programs that are underway at the college.

Quinn said that college officials are wrapping up red tape for a cellular tower that will be constructed next to the college's existing communications tower.

"It isn't going to benefit everybody in Crawford County, but it will certainly benefit those folks located out there in our direction," Quinn said.

Quinn said that college officials are also working digital Internet with providers in hopes of enhancing Internet services to every resident in the college's four-county service area. Quinn said as many as 1,600 students utilize the college's digital Internet service at any given moment to take online classes.

"If we want world class online programming, we need world class Internet services for everybody," Quinn unveil a web site that would allow small machine manufacturers and welders in the region to link up to generate more business.

"It's an old fashioned farmer's market cooperative is what we like to call it." Quinn said. "The idea is that people can combine their efforts to produce different products."

Quinn said that Michigan

Community College Association officials are focused on implementing a state law, recently signed by Gov. Jennifer M. Granholm, which would allow community colleges to provide training to startup businesses and businesses expanding their workforce. Under the law, community colleges could issue bonds to fund the training, and the businesses benefiting from the education would pay funds back to the college to pay off the bonds. Interest paid by the companies would create a pool of money to fund ongoing training efforts.

On the medical front, Kirtland Community College recently began a cardiac stenography program. A surgery technologist program is in the works through the college to help meet Mercy Hospital Grayling's needs. The college has also formed a partnership with Ferris State University to offer medical assistant training. fall, Kirtland Last Community College added fire science courses to its police academy.

"We can have officers and firemen that can go out there and work both sides and I think that is a real advantage to our students," Quinn said.

Quinn said the college is exploring the possibility of obtaining grant funding from the U.S. Forest Service to build housing for a wildfire academy. Similar academies exist in northern Minnesota and California. Students in the academy would be called out to national and international wildfires.

"People would come here for specific training and they would go to a wildfire situation when it comes up," Ouinn said.

Quinn was hired to serve as Kirtland Community College's president in June 2007. He came to the college after serving as vice president of academic affairs and student services for South Arkansas Community College in El Dorado, Ark. Quinn succeeded Dr. Charles Rorie, who retired after serving as Kirtland's top administrator since 2000.

Crawford County officials noted that the last time a college administrator visited a Crawford County Board of Commissioners' meeting was in 1999, when officials were seeking support for Kirtland Community College's M-TEC Center. The M-TEC center was built in Gaylord in conjunction with the University Center Gaylord, a conglomeration of community colleges and universities providing classes in the region.

Quinn thanked Crawford County officials for supporting the college.

"We certainly wouldn't be successful without you," Quinn said. "Our communities that we serve are all very important to us."

Heavy snowfall enhances school ski program

by Matt Seager Staff Writer

This week, gym classes at Grayling Elementary School (GES) are thinking outside the dodgeball. Instead, fourth graders are strapping on a pair of skis and hitting the playground in celebration of one of Grayling's most popular winter sports.

Cross country ski classes have been provided to students by a partnership of the Grayling Recreation Authority (GRA) and the Grayling Visitor's Bureau.

This is the second year that GRA has been involved with the cross country ski program at GES.

Ideal snow conditions throughout the week played a role in making the program possible this year.

After a big thaw three weeks ago, ice and bare dirt threatened the state of winter sports throughout the county. Some business owners and winter sports enthusiasts were concerned that the season was dead, but a heavy two-day long winter snowstorm last weekend landed just in time.

According to Grayling Visitor's Bureau, trails and slopes throughout the area are back in optimal

A group of fourth graders tackle the trails on Monday. The school's cross country ski clinic was bolstered by recent heavy snow that has restored trail systems throughout the county. This group of students was lead by physical education teacher Kelly Sheehan and volunteers from the Grayling Recreation Authority.

This includes condition. one very special cross country ski trail that was just groomed behind the GES building.

The ongoing cross country ski classes have been helped by more than just the snow. This year, the crash course in Nordic navigation has been further streamlined to improve students' outdoor experience.

The classes are now exclusively offered to fourth graders in order to make class sizes more manageable. However, fifth graders with an itch for the outdoors shouldn't feel left out. They still have access to GRA's afterschool cross country ski program.

"We're trying to make it so that every kid has the experience to at least try it," said Joni Dunckel, program director for GRA.

GRA employees groomed a classic ski track on the GES playground, providing kids with an easy loop that even includes uphill and downhill portions.

"A lot of these kids have never skied before ... this is Fourth grader Derick Richardson flies down the trail that was set behind Grayling Elementary School. For some of the students, this was their first time on skis.

their first experience," said physical education teacher Kelly Sheehan.

Although several kids mentioned that they "like downhill better" while they navigated the course on Monday, most of the students had so much fun that they decided to do several loops.

"They look forward to it," Sheehan said.

GES student Derick

Richardson was one of the many students who was happy to spend an hour gliding over the snow.

"It's about having fun, enjoying the outdoors and exercising," he said.

In light of the recent snowfall, it is likely that many local and visiting winter recreation enthusiasts share Richardson's opinion.

"I love it," said Sheehan.

10-year-old girl gets published in national comic strip

by Matt Seager Staff Writer

Perhaps by accident, Grayling residents Jim and Joyce Kolka instilled a lifelong love of all things comic related in their son, Kurt. In turn, he passed his passion for the funny pages onto his daughter, Rebekah, who recently had her work published in the nationally syndicated comic strip "Alley Oop."

Not bad for a 10-yearold.

"It really surprised me. I had no idea she was going to do that," said Joyce.

Maybe she shouldn't have been so surprised. Her son, Kurt, has always made a point of turning his love of comics into a fun adventure for his entire family, who currently reside in Gaylord. His wife, Diane, and Rebekah have even accompanied him to comic conventions in Detroit.

Kurt, who occasionally draws and publishes his own comics online, said his parents were inadvertently responsible for sparking his interest in the funny pages.

"It was a big deal to watch Dad bring home the family newspaper ... it just kind of sparks the imagination at that age," Kurt said.

He said that he and his family still reach for the Sunday comics first.

"We definitely get a newspaper every Sunday," Kurt said. "For my wife and I, it's like a family tradition."

It's a tradition that Rebekah has been happy to enjoy. In fact, every time a comic has a major anniversary, she and her dad write a thank-you note to the publisher.

Alley Oop is a comic about prehistoric cave dwellers that is printed in about 600 newspapers nationwide. When Kurt noticed that the strip's 75th anniversary was on the horizon, he checked the internet for contact information.

It turns out that the strip's creators already had plans for the big anniversary.

"I saw an invitation for young readers to send a drawing," Kurt said.

The creators of the comic wanted to include dinosaur drawings from kids in a series of special strips.

Rebekah, who is a bit of an artist herself, was happy to take on the challenge. Using a toy as an artistic frame of reference, she drew her own green sauropod. Shortly thereafter, her drawing showed up in papers throughout the country.

"We were really, really excited about that," Joyce said.

For Rebekah and her father, the real thrill came when they got a personal thank-you from the comic's makers.

"It was just exciting to hear from some professional cartoonists," Kurt said.

Rebekah, who regularly attends a Gaylord Area Council for the Arts camp, plans to continue pursuing the hobby that was passed down to her by her father.

"Certainly she's planning on doing more with the arts ... for her it's something that's very enjoyable to do," Kurt said.

Rebekah Kolka is the granddaughter Grayling residents Jim and Joyce Kolka.

Rebekah's favorite comic are "Blondie," strips "Dennis the Menace," and "Annie." She regularly sends her grandparents drawings for the holidays.

Although Kurt said that his 10-year-old daughter currently aspires to be a teacher, her entire family will continue to encourage her to pursue a hobby in the

"I think it's very educational and fun," Joyce said.

Local girl benefits from AED donation

by Matt Seager Staff Writer

The AuSable Primary School's new automated external defibrillator (AED) was purchased for the benefit of anyone who enters the school. But, for second grader Amairis Blair and her family, the device is of extra special importance.

Amairis, age 7, has been showing the symptoms of an unidentified heart condition since she was in kindergärten.

"Back when she was five, she kind of had a little episode, but nothing really came of it," said her mother, Annie Blair.

In recent months, Amairis has suffered from occasional attacks featuring chest pains, dizziness and general losses of energy.

"She gets real dizzy and sick looking," said Blair.

Doctors confirmed that the symptoms Amairis was experiencing were quite real and potentially quite dangerous.

To the frustration of her parents, Amairis' specific condition has yet to be officially diagnosed. Last year, local doctor Douglas Slater tentatively diagnosed her with paroxysmal supraventachycardia tricular (PSVT), which appears most often in children.

PSVT is basically defined as the occasional occurrence of a rapid heart rate as a consequence of problems with electrical signals in the body that regulate the heart.

Symptoms include anxiety, chest tightness, palpitations, shortness of breath and possible dizziness and fainting.

Although the condition is generally not life threatening, it is possible for an extreme episode to require emergency medical intervention to return the heart rate to normal.

"I just feel so sad because she's constantly at the doctor's," Blair said.

Amairis was also forced to wear a cumbersome heart monitor for a length of time.

"She had a countdown on a calendar for when she could take it off," Blair said.

Concerned for her daughter's safety, Blair spoke to AuSable Primary School (APS) Principal Barbara Mick about securing an AED for possible emergen-

"She told me, 'I'll look into it," Blair said. "I didn't think it would happen so quickly."

She said she was overwhelmed by the generosity of the community members who made the purchase of the AED possible within

"That was the most wonderful feeling ... I felt like crying," she said.

such a short stretch of time.

She's also happy that the device has the potential to benefit more people than just her daughter.

"When she leaves the building, it will be there for everyone else," Blair said.

BRACES BASICS

A teenager experiences many rites of passage: pimples, a first crush, a first kiss, a driver's license, the prom and braces. The last ordeal is perhaps the most dreaded.

While braces may be something no teen looks forward to, millions of smiles are enhanced by the work of braces. The job of these dental appliances is to apply pressure to teeth, which makes them stay in a certain spot, creating straighter teeth and a beautiful

American Association of The Orthodontics recommends that every child get a checkup with an orthodontist by age 7. Some orthodontic problems are easier to correct if detected sooner rather than later, and early treatment can prevent more severe problems later in life. Without treatment, teeth problems can lead to tooth decay, gum disease, bone destruction, chew problems and digestive difficulties. A bad bite can contribute to speech impediments, tooth loss, chipped teeth and other dental injuries.

The length of time for a teenager to wear braces varies, but most teens wear them for two years. The time frame depends on the health of the teeth, gums and bones, the severity of the problem, and how closely the patient follows instructions (such as wearing a headgear or a retainer).

Today's braces are different from those of yesteryear. Brackets, the part of the braces that holds the wire, come in traditional metal as well as clear or tooth color. Sometimes, brackets can even be put on the back of the teeth to completely minimize the appearance of braces. Wires are smaller and more advanced than in the past, straightening teeth even faster.

Because they have a mouth full of wires, braces wearers need to be on top of their dental health. It's important to brush after meals, remove anything lodged in braces and avoid foods that can get stuck in braces like popcorn, gum and hard candy.

True, it's hard to get excited about having wire, rubber bands and other gadgets in your mouth. Braces are definitely not as fun as the prom. But you'll know they were worth any amount of pain they might have caused when you see the end result - a beautiful smile. And that's something that will stick with you longer than that dried-up

The Chihuahua, the Pie, the Peanut, the Pineapple and the Coconut

By William Webb, 7th grade, GMS.

There once was a very hungry chihuahua named Mr. Popo. One day Mr. Popo met a peanut named Mr. P. and, after one look at him, his mouth was known for their eleverness as well as their silliness and Mr. Popo was no exception. He decided he would devour that peanut. Mr. Popo said, "My wife thinks peanuts are inferior to walnuts. I told her that peanuts are better because they make peanut butter. I guess it is no use arguing when we could settle this here and now."

Mr. P. said, "Let's show your wife. Go get two walnuts and I'll get my peanut friend." The two chihuahua's, Mr. Popo and his wife, Rosie, devoured the two walnuts proclaiming that they were the best nuts they had ever eaten.

Discouraged, Mr. P. yelled, "Wait, you didn't even give us a chance," and jumped right into Mr. Popo's mouth.

Mr. Popo swallowed with satisfaction saying, "Mmm, mmm good. That peanut hit the spot." Rosie enjoyed the fellow

This was not enough to satisfy the very hungry chihuahua, Mr. Popo. We all know chihuahua's have a very fast metabolism. Luckily, Mr. Cocoa, the chocolate pie, was walking by on his way to the pie shop.

Mr. Popo quickly yelled, "I ples are very don't think they should even more delicious sell chocolate pies. They are not delicious according to the pie scientists."

Now, this made the crust on

Mr. Popo said, "just that you are not delicious. It is not anything I thought up, I read it in Pie Science Monthly."

The chocolate pie, without watering. Chihuahua's are even considering the consequences, jumped right into Popo's mouth thinking, "dogs can't have chocolate." great time! Then I had a horrible flashback, my dad, last year, made me fall off the saucer. I wasn't even that. But now he didn't. He headed off into a snowy field. Was I ever having a blast! I loved the dips. Then we got to Teddy's driveway. Trying to have the best ride, my dad turned up the speed (which I liked). We came to a corner. Whizzing by it felt like a roller-coaster coming out of a cave.

As we came to a stop I said, "Dad, when you went fast, I had an awesome time!"

"I know, I'm cool," my dad said starting to laugh. Now that was a wild and awesome ride!

March Madness 2009

Girls basketball squad to play at Elk Rapids on Monday

by Caleb Casey

Senior Staff Writer

"March Madness" - basketball tournament action and everything that goes along with it - begins next week with girls basketball playoffs.

For Michigan high school girls basketball teams, "March Madness" starts with district tournaments - the first round of the playoffs – on Monday, March 2.

("March Madness" refers to the furor surrounding high school and college basketball playoffs throughout the nation. Playoff tournaments - including the National Collegiate Athletic Association's 64-team division one tournaments that determine national champions in men's and women's college basketball begin in March.)

Grayling High School's varsity girls basketball squad will start its playoff run with a round one District 63-B game vs. the Elk Rapids Elks on Monday, March 2, at 7 p.m. at Elk Rapids. The winner will host Cheboygan on Wednesday, March 4, at 7 p.m. in the semifinals.

Grayling's playoff foe – the Elk Rapids Elks – is a familiar adversary. Both squads play in the same athletic league - the Lake Michigan Conference - and they have already faced each other twice so far this year. Elk Rapids won both games (45-32 on Jan. 16 and 53-42 on Feb. 12).

"This is the second year in a row that Grayling has drawn Elk Rapids for districts. It is the best See GIRLS | 2B matchup we could ask for. Having played them twice already, we know what to expect and know they are beatable. The last time we played them, we were only down five points with three minutes remaining in the fourth quarter," Coach Kelly Sheehan said. "Our defense is tough and our scoring is consistent. We are looking forward to this rematch."

In the other District 63-B semifinal game, Petoskey will host Roscommon on Wednesday, March 4, at 7 p.m. The winner will host Elk Rapids, Grayling, or Cheboygan in the district championship game on Friday, March 6, at 7 p.m.

The Michigan High School Athletic Association changed the format of district tournaments this year. Instead of having one school host all of the games for one tournament, districts now have the option of allowing the top school listed in the bracket to host each individual game.

"The (MHSAA) is doing that to help cut down on travel and increase (gate) revenue," said Tim Sanchez, GHS Athletic Director.

Boylan is the team's leading scorer (183 total, 10.2 per game), rebounder (185 total, 10.3 per game), and shot blocker (107 total, 5.9 per game). S. Schreiber leads the team in assists (90 total, 5.0 per game) and steals (79 total, 4.4 per game).

(The preceding statistics, as well as those found in the "March Madness" player profiles on pages 2-3B, are from the team's first 18 games.)

Varsity basketball team defeats Elks 61-45 on Friday

Big second half leads Bucks past Vikings on Wednesday

The Vikings of Grayling High School defeated Elk Rapids 61-45 in a league varsity boys basketball contest played at GHS last Friday.

"I was extremely pleased with our defensive pressure in the game. We forced Elk Rapids into 37 turnovers and we held them to 29 points through the first 30 minutes of the game. Trent Larm and Colin Hamlin played very well. Eric Ferrigan was a spark plug off the bench for us, as he played solid at both ends of the court," Coach Rich Moffit said.

Leading scorers for GHS were: Larm, 15 points, 5 rebounds, 5 steals; Hamlin, 14 points, 3 assists, 4 steals; Ferrigan, 12 points, 5 steals; Steven Enos, 7 points. On Wednesday, the Roscommon Bucks outscored Grayling 44-19 in the second half and defeated Grayling 75-49. The game

Vikings defeat Roscommon Bucks, Elk Rapids Elks at GHS

The GHS junior varsity boys basketball squad won two homes games last week a nonconference contest Roscommon

Wednesday and a league match vs. Elk Rapids on Friday - to improve its season record to 12-4.

On Friday, the Vikings defeated the Elk Rapids

Grayling finished the contest with 15 steals, 12 steals, and 30 rebounds (to Elk Rapids' 24).

"This was a big win for our team. We are on a ninegame winning steak, but more importantly – we are improving each and every game. The first time we played (Elk Rapids) they beat us by two. This time, it felt like we could do anything we wanted against them," Coach Chris Kucharek said.

Grayling's leading scorers Elks by a final score of 69- were: Ethan Lewis, 15 points, 11 rebounds; Jake Helsel, 13 points, rebounds; Zane Tobin, 12 points, 3 steals; Griffin Dean, 11 points; Riley Zigila, 9 points, 4 assists, 4 steals; Jensen Aubry, 5 points, 3 assists, 3 steals; Brent Steffey, 3 points.

"Jensen Aubry and Riley Zigila had a huge game.

Defensively, they did a nice job creating pressure and communicating," Coach Kucharek said. "Adam Kuszak had a nice game with one assist and a rebound late in the game."

On Wednesday, Grayling won 57-38 vs. Roscommon. The Vikings had a 12-point lead at halftime, 33-21, and were: Robbie Wilson, 8 added to it with a 24-17 sec-points; Lewis, 10 points, 8 ond half.

The Vikings had 18 steals, 12 assists, and 28 rebounds (to Roscommon's 20). The team shot 56 percent (24 for 43) from the floor.

"We showed a lot of character during this game because seven of our nine players were sick. The bench played a huge role in this game and the team found a way to get the job done," Coach Kucharek said. "Ethan Lewis had a breakout game with 10 points and eight rebounds and five steals. He is starting to play the complete game."

Leading scorers for GHS rebounds, 2 assists, 5 steals; Helsel, 10 points, 6 rebounds, 2 assists; Zigila, 8 points, 3 steals; Tobin, 8 points; Aubry, 7 points; Dean, 4 points; Steffey, 2 points.

The Vikings (12-4 overall, 7-4 league) will play at Traverse City St. Francis on Friday, Feb. 27.

9th graders defeat Roscommon, Harbor Springs

The GHS freshman boys basketball squad defeated the Roscommon Bucks 52-31 on Wednesday in a contest played at Grayling Middle School.

"I was very happy with our defensive effort – I felt it was the best game we had played defensively this year. We only gave up 11 points (in) the first half," Coach LJ Mead said. "Devon Dawson played tremendously on both sides of the ball."

Leading scorers for GHS were: David Bergan, 18 points, 4 rebounds, 5 steals; Tom Burrell, 13 points, 6 rebounds, 2 steals, 2 assists, 3 blocks; Josh McBride, 6 points, 6 rebounds; Craig Collen, 6 points, blocks;

Dawson, 5 points, 7 rebounds, 6 steals, 5 assists; Joe Latusek, 2 points, 1 block; Ryan Randall, 2 points, I steal.

The win improved Grayling's season record to 9-4 overall (6-3 league).

On Friday, Feb. 13, the Vikings won 60-44 at Harbor Springs.

"We got off to a slow start, but we picked up the intensity as the game went on. We went on a run in the second quarter that really turned the game in our favor. Once we took the lead, we did not look back. Another strong effort from our kids," Coach Mead said. Leading scorers for Grayling included: Bergan Dawson (12),McBride (12), Burrell (7), Carlysle (7), Collen (4). Grayling won 60-42 at Roscommon on Feb. 9.

"We got off to a sluggish start, but we picked up our intensity in the second quarter. We went on a 14-0 run to end the first half. Our defensive intensity led to some quick buckets and Roscommon was not able to recover from that. I was proud of the way we showed perseverance, as well as our overall team effort," Coach Mead said.

Grayling's leading scorers were: Bergan (21), Burrell (15), McBride (6), Collen (6), Dawson (5), Carlysle (4),Travis Schreiber (2).

The Vikings will play at Traverse City St. Francis on Friday, Feb. 27.

Varsity team defeats Harbor Springs 43-35 on Tuesday

11-4 fourth quarter run helps seal it for GHS

With an 11-4 run to start the fourth period, Grayling High School's varsity girls basketball squad turned a threepoint lead into a 10-point during last Tuesday's 43-35 league victory vs. the visiting Harbor Springs Rams.

Grayling trailed by five going into the second period, 13-8. Harbor Springs had a 19-17 edge at halftime. The Vikings outscored Harbor Springs 13-8 in the third quarter and led 30-27 going into the fourth period.

The Vikings scored the first five points of the fourth period with a free throw by Sam Schreiber, a put-back by Laura Boylan, and a lay-up by Teresa Schreiber. Harbor Springs scored a jump shot to cut Grayling's lead to six. Two baskets by Boylan gave Grayling a 10-point lead. Harbor Springs scored a jump shot at the 3:39 mark. Two free throws by S. Schreiber gave the Vikings a 41-31 advantage with 2:45 remaining in the contest.

The Vikings won by eight, 43-35.

"It was good to see our girls keep playing aggressively for four quarters," Coach Kelly Sheehan said. "We never gave up and had great teamwork."

Leading scorers for the Vikings were: Boylan, 19 points, 15 rebounds, 8 blocks; T. Schreiber, 11 points, 5 steals, 5 blocks; S. Schreiber, 9 points, 2 steals.

On Thursday night, the Vikings lost 53-35 at Kalkaska.

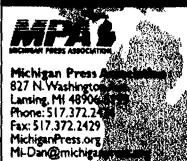

"Kalkaska came out shooting. We game with 25 points and 18 rebounds."

Boylan finished with 25 points, 18 rebounds, and four blocks. T. Schreiber had 10 points, six rebounds, three steals, and two blocks. Ashley Feldhauser had three points and three

JV team falls to Kalkaska, Harbor Springs

Grayling High School's junior varsity girls basketball squad lost to Kalkaska and Harbor Springs last

On Thursday night, the Vikings lost by six, 34-28, at Kalkaska.

"We played a very good all-around game but missed a lot of opportunities to score. We did not capitalize on all of the Kalkaska turnovers," Coach Craig. Hofman said. "I was very happy with the team effort. They played together well and I subbed in a lot differently than usual to get girls more time. I was very impressed with two freshmen in particular. Jamie Denton and Chloe Harwood showed a lot of potential and promise for next year's JV team. Carlie and Rebecca Money stood out defensively and are going to help the varsity (team) cause a lot of defensive headaches next year. Ann Hamlin stood out defensively and offensively with 15 points and 18 rebounds. Haley Wiseman came in off the bench to add two points and nine rebounds. Shalee Miller had a very solid game at point guard. This was her best all-around effort this year. Katlyn Nye, Kristen Todoroff, and Hali Miller also played very solid games. Sam Hansen and Jennifer Lester played limited time but gave a tough effort and helped us get turnovers in the last couple of minutes to keep us close." Leading scorers for the Vikings were: Hamlin, 15 points, 18 rebounds, 2 steals; S. Miller, 4 points, 3 steals; C. Money, 4 points, 2 rebounds, 2 assists; Wiseman, 2 points, 9 rebounds, 2 steals; Todoroff, 1 point, 2 rebounds; Denton, 1 point, 3 rebounds.

On Tuesday, the Vikings fell 29-12 vs. Harbor Springs in a game played at GHS.

"The girls showed great improvement defensively against the Rams. We gave up 49 points in the first game. Our shooting problems continued. Rams' defense was good, but we had plenty of opportunities from the field to score," Coach Hofman said.

Grayling's leading scorers were: Hamlin, 4 points, 8 rebounds; R. Money, 4 points, 2 steals; S. Miller, 3 points, 2 steals; C. Money, 1 point, 3 steals; Todoroff, 4 rebounds.

The Vikings (4-15 overall) will play their final game of the season this week.

23 Years Ago February 27, 1986

The effect of dropping oil prices reached Grayling in a dramatic fashion this week as the price for a gallon of regular gas dropped below $1 at one Crawford County self-serve station. A survey of 21 Crawford County stations showed that Cooper's Country Corners in Frederic was the lowest price in the county for self-serve gasoline. As of Monday, Feb. 24, Cooper's price for regular leaded was 99¢ a gallon and unleaded was $1.08. The Grayling Middle School 7th grade boys basketball team went undefeated with a season record of 14-0. The team consisted of

Moore, Aaron Shane Fraser, Millikin, Mick McKinney, Ron Doe,

from Grayling High School consisted of Tim Hickey, Kevin Reynolds, Flaskie Robins, Jayson Welser, Ralph Oppermann, John Walsh, Derrick Christman and Mike Burkley. They were coached by Mike Wieland.

Members of the 1986

Grayling High School girls ski team were Julie Huss, Jenni Branch, Pam Lange, Cari Longworth, Lori Gust, Robin Sellers, Dena Thayer and Heather Derenzy. They were coached by Mike Wieland.

The Vikings ski season came to an end at Schuss Mt. as 19 area teams fought it out to place in the top two in the state finals. The Viking girls placed fourth, with the realization that third place could have been theirs if one or two mistakes had not happened. The boys team also finished in fourth and they skied about as good as they could have to get that close to the top.

46 Years Ago February 28, 1963

Mark Anderson, Grayling High School junior and son of the Batch Andersons of Lake Margrethe, was one of 16 boys chosen to be a member of the National Ski Team and will compete in the National Junior Alpine Championships in March in Jackson Hole, Wyo. Jody Almon, daughter of the Al Almons of Frederic, was also chosen as one of 10 girls to compete in Jackson Hole.

Of the 1963 February graduating class, from the Grayling, Cadillac and Manistee Mercy Schools of Practical Nursing, Pamela Mauren and Diane Kahoun were the two students from Grayling.

69 Years Ago February 29, 1940

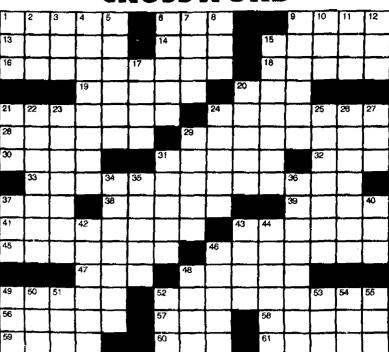

Last Sunday's first annual novice ski jumping tournament proved to be a thrilling event. There were 13 entrants in the senior class and three in the junior class. Don Roach and Newman, both of Detroit, won first and second prizes. Four Grayling boys took part in the senior event, Jack Callahan, Hurl Deckrow, Rudy Harrison and Clement Blaine. In the junior event, Esbern Olson took first place.

John Mallinger, a solo student of Grayling's Flying Club, attempted to land his plane on Higgins Lake when an axle broke, causing a ski with which the plane was equipped for winter flying to puncture the under side of the fuselage. The damage was slight and repairs were made by Menno Corwin, allowing the plane to return to the hangar in Grayling.

92 Years Ago March 1, 1917

Three new species of fish will be planted in the AuSable River dam ponds next summer. They are land locked salmon, Chinook Rocky Mountain whitefish. Montana grayling were planted in the upper branches of the AuSable in 1914.

Wrestling team wins third consecutive district title Vikings defeat Oscoda 73-3 in finals

by Caleb Casey

Senior Staff Writer The Grayling Vikings – in front of their home crowd at Grayling High School on Thursday night - clinched their third consecutive district wrestling championship with a 73-3 victory over the Oscoda Owls in the District 167-3 tournament finals.

Grayling's district included three teams this year: Elk Rapids, Oscoda, Grayling. The Vikings drew a bye for the semifinal round. Oscoda defeated Elk Rapids 54-30 to advance to the championship round vs. Grayling.

The Vikings dominated the Owls, winning 13 of 14

In the first weight class – 145 pounds – Cody Collen pinned his Oscoda opponent in the second round. Zach Wolcott (152) won an 8-7 decision in the second match of the evening.

Derek Babbitt (160),

Shane Grove (171), and Joey Contreras (189) all scored first round pins. Matt Townsend (215) won by pin in the second round. Kyle Peters (heavyweight) pinned his Oscoda counterpart in the first round.

Jerry Bergey (103) won by pin in the second round. Cody Elmy (112) pinned his opponent in the first round. Joe White (119) scored a first round pin. Olivia Peters (125) lost a 6-0 decision.

Dan Duvall pinned his Oscoda counterpart in the second round. Will Fowler won a 12-4 decision. Josh Moggo (140) – in the final match of the night – scored a pin in the first round.

Grayling won 73-3.

"They worked their tails off," Coach Joe Ferrigan said. "They did exactly what they were supposed to do tonight. They went on the mat not hoping to win, but expecting to win. They stayed focused, came out and took care of business."

Six wrestlers qualify for individual regionals

Individual District 17-3 tournament on event held at Benzie Central to quality for this week's individual regional iour Gravling's six individ nal regional qualitiers. were Cody Collen (145). 1st: Joe White (119), 2nd: Shane Grove (171), 3rd: Matt. Townsend (218). 3rd; Josh Moggo (140). 4th: Jerry Bergey (103).

Grayling advances to the . Region 117-3 tournament, which will be held at Gladstone High School on Wednesday, Feb. 25, at 6 p.m. The Vikings (26-3) will wrestle against Kingsford. In the other regional semifinal match, Roscommon (29-

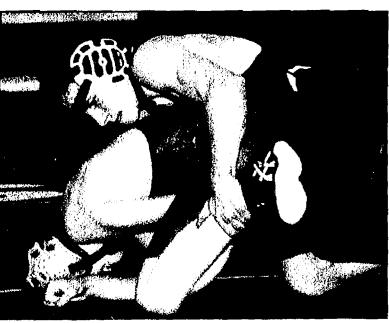

Samuelas's Individual District 17-3 tournament included teams from Oscoda, Benzie Central. Chebovgan, Llk Rapids, Gladstone, Houghton Lake. Ishpenung, Kingstord. Kingsley. Menominee, Roscommon. and Vegannec.

The Individual Region 9.3 tournament will be held at Houghton Lake on Saturday, Feb. 28.

With the win in districts, 6) will battle Menominee (15-10).

"They worked as hard as any team we have ever had and they're ready to go wrestle in regionals," Coach Ferrigan said. "We haven't had any grade problems. We haven't had any discipline problems. They've been great student-athletes all year long."

Grayling Youth Wrestling Club

Eight members of the Grayling Youth Wrestling Club placed in the top four during Saturday's NEMWA state finals tournament, which was held in Bay City.

"All 11 kids that went to (the state finals) wrestled well. Just to make it to that level is a huge accomplishment," Coach Larry Duvall said.

Grayling's eight state finishers, including two champions, are as follows:

Jonathan Martin, 1st -"(Jonathan) is now a backstate champ. to-back Jonathan wrestled very well and was dominant in both his matches. We look for continued success from Jonathan next year," Coach Larry Duvall said.

Zack Cheney, 4th - "Zack wrestled well all day and was in a very talented weight bracket. Zack lost his first match and then wrestled back to take fourth. To place in this bracket was an accomplishment within itself," Coach Duvall said.

Zach Joseph, 3rd -"(Zach) finished the day in third. He did a good job and worked hard to get to (the state finals)," Coach Duvall said.

Kyle Schmidt, 4th -"(Kyle) finished the day in fourth. He was another one with a very talented bracket. All the kids in his weight placed first or second last year. Only the top four place at state, so he did very good," Coach Duvall said.

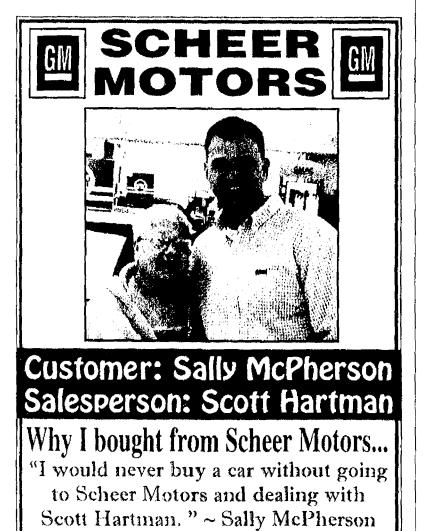

Zach Mack, 1st - "(Zach) again won the state title. This makes him a back-toback champion. He has worked hard all year and it showed in the finals. Zach pinned his first kid and won the second by points," Coach Duvall said.

Ty Jensen, 3rd – "Ty had some very tough competition. He wrestled very well and gave 100 percent for the whole match," Coach Duvall said.

Brandon Handrich, 2nd -"(Brandon) finished in second place. Although this was a disappointment in Brandon's eyes, we were very proud of him. Brandon was sick all week and was not at 100 percent, He makes no excuses and works as hard as anyone on the team. To finish second in only his third full year shows his dedication," Coach Duvall said.

Jeff Myers, 2nd - "Jeff wrestled very well and took second. This is awesome, considering it is only his second year wrestling. Jeff lost his first match and won his next two. He works very hard on the mat," Coach Duvall said.

"We would like to wish Kyle, Zach (Mack), Ty, and Brandon all the success in the high school. They will make Grayling proud at the next level also," Coach Duvall said.
